TIME TO... Pay lip service

Few injectable treatments are as nerve-racking as the old lip-filler. Think of a trout pout. Scarlett Johansson may suit the bee-stung look (natural, we hasten to add), but Meg Ryan? Not so much. When it comes to cosmetically boosting your lips, less is most definitely more. And if you despair over a thin letterbox of a smile, there are options. Jabs involving Belotero or Juvéderm have a great track record in volumising. But you have GOT to trust the syringe-wielder. We put our faith in the lovely-lipped Dr Tracy Mountford at the Cosmetic Skin Clinic (01753 646660), who gave us a sneaky peek of the spanking-new Restylane Lip Refresh treatment (book your appointment now for January). It's all about hydrating and revitalising rather than adding bulk, using gentle shots of hyaluronic-acid gel mixed with pain-relieving lidocaine to achieve a thrillingly youthful-smooth pout that lasts for up to nine months. Not convinced? Less adventurous ladies can pick up a tube of supercharged Sexy Mother Pucker Extreme Plump Lip Shine, £10.50, by Soap & Glory, for a tingling but temporary inflation. How swell. Issy von Simson
